Bus unloading and parking information

Fullerton College Campus Theatre – Buses will unload in the alleyway behind the Campus Theatre. Fullerton College Campus Security will be on hand to direct buses. The alleyway may be accessed off Lemon, just north of Chapman Avenue. After unloading, bus drivers will be directed to Parking Lot 5 at the north end of campus. Be sure to get the cell phone of your bus driver for the bus to return to the loading area following the festival. Lot 5 is a long walk from the theatre. On the attached map, the Campus Theatre is marked Building 1300.

Festival includes a performance and adjudication/clinic. Students are encouraged to strive for excellence in their performances while being adjudicated by some of the nation's finest musicians and music educators. Participants experience an event that combines a positive, fun experience with strong educational standards.

Performance Information:

Don't forget original music scores for each of the two adjudicators (2) plus any CDs that you require as accompaniment. Please complete a stage set up sheet for each of your ensembles and fax back to (714) 449-1794 as soon as possible. You may also access the set-up form at our website – www.forummusicfestivals.com – listed under "General Information and Forms."

Out of courtesy for all groups desiring to compete, a fee will be assessed for individual ensembles cancelling after the schedule is distributed.

General information:

No dressing rooms are available at Fullerton College. The college has requested that groups do not use the restrooms for dress changes. Casual attire is acceptable for your performance, based on the director's preference. We are guests on the Fullerton College Campus. Because there are classes ongoing in the music building adjacent to the theatre, the college has requested that no groups assemble in the breezeway between the theatre and the music building.

9:50am            Warm up.

10:15am            Performance.

12:45pm            Award ceremony
